Time Management Principles for Successful Corporate Executives

Leaders face unprecedented domestic and global challenges from new technologies, global competition, increased market segmentation, specialization and massive industrial restructuring. Not only that, the pace of these changes is unprecedented in history. This workshop is focused on increasing personal productivity and improving time management skills, provides leaders with the knowledge and tools to reshape their organization and manage these complex changes to achieve and retain competitive advantage in the next millennium.

Sati Achath is a multitalented corporate trainer and speaker, whose workshop will have a tremendous impact on high performing corporate executives. This is the no-nonsense, eye-opening workshop from which you can learn the qualities and tools of Abraham Lincoln, Oprah Winfrey, Martin Luther King, Henry Ford, Bill Gates, Steve Jobs, Warren Buffet, Mark Zuckerberg, in order to work at a higher level of productivity with success. This workshop incorporates experiential exercises, implementation guides, workbooks tailored to our client's needs to improve their personal productivity and time management skills based on proven time management strategies and expertise.

Attendees will be enriched and empowered with meaningful ideas, tools, and techniques that can be immediately applied in their day to day life to achieve a high level of success. This workshop is innovative, interactive, exciting, and entertaining.

Having spent more than 30 years on in-depth study of the secret merits of successful people, Sati has uncovered the mysteries of human potential. He has applied these winning qualities in his own life and become highly successful: Sati holds four master's degrees, speaks six languages, and is the author of five books, including 12 Qualities of Highly Successful People. His cartoons and caricatures have been published in more than 25 US national newspapers. He is a hand shadow puppeteer who was a quarter finalist on America's Got Talent and was a featured guest on The Late Show with David Letterman. He is a ventriloquist and magician, and plays four musical instruments. No wonder, Sati has been recognized by the U.S. Government as a 'Person of Extraordinary Ability'. Sati is more than qualified as an expert in knowledge with these principles but also in experience that will inspire corporate executives become more successful.

Sati works as a Project Evaluation Specialist for the World Bank in Washington, D.C. He holds four master's degrees: MBA (USA), Master of Science (USA), Master of International Relations (France), and Master of English Literature (India). He has visited 58 countries.
